THE EAST.

An Ohio Town Completely Demolished by a Cyclone.

FOUR HUNDRED HOUSES WRECKED

Terrible Loss of Life Reported—The Great Yacht Race Delayed by an Accident—The Railroad Meeting at St. Paul

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—The Commercial Gazette has telegraphic advices from Washington, Ohio, that a terrific cyclone passed over that neighborhood to-night, doing great damage to property. A number of lives were lost. A Bloomingburg special to the same paper confirms this report, and adds that the latter town is in ruins. Owing to the condition of the telegraph wires, details can not be given. A violent electrical disturbance was seen to the north from Cincinnati to-night, although the storm was not very heavy.

SWEPT FROM THE EARTH.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—A Leader special from Springfield says: A terrible cyclone struck Washington Court House, a city of 4000 inhabitants, twenty-five miles west of here, at 8 o'clock this evening, and almost literally swept it from the earth. It came from the northwest and broke upon the town suddenly, carrying everything before it. The tornado whirled up Court street, the main business thoroughfare, and ruined almost every business block on it, at least forty or fifty in all. Hardly a private residence in town escaped, fully 400 buildings going down. The Baptist, Presbyterian and Catholic churches all suffered the same fate. The Ohio Southern, the Pacific, the Narrow Gauge and the Midland depots were blown to smithers, and every building in the vicinity was carried away, making ingress or egress almost impossible.

As every wire within a circle of two miles is down, it is utterly impossible to get accurate details of this catastrophe. The only reports that can be gotten are through an operator who tapped a wire two miles west of town and is sitting in a heavy rain storm to work his instruments.

TAKING OUT THE DEAD.

The panic-stricken people were taken completely unawares, and fled from the tumbling buildings in every direction through the murky darkness. A mad frenzy seemed to seize them, and they hurried hither and thither in their wild distraction, little knowing whither they were fleeing. After the whirlwind, which lasted about ten minutes, a heavy rain all set in, which still continues unabated at this writing.

As soon as a few of the cooler heads had recovered their senses, searching parties were organized and the sad work of looking for the dead began. So far fifteen bodies have been recovered from the debris of various ruined buildings, and the dreary work is just beginning to get under way. It is probable that as many more will be found before morning. The glimmer of lanterns procured from farm houses in the vicinity and the few houses left standing is the only light they have to work by. Two or three bodies have been stumbled upon in the middle of the street, where they were stricken down by flying bricks or timbers. Cellars of houses and every sort of refuge were filled with shivering people huddling together in a vain attempt to keep warm. One babe in arms has died from exposure. Morning trains will carry plenty of provisions, but strange to say, nobody has yet thought of sending a special train to the scene of the catastrophe to-night.

HELP WILL BE SENT.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.—The most alarming reports are current here regarding loss of life and property at Washington Court House, where a cyclone gutted the city to-night. Help will be sent at 4 o'clock to destitute families. At Hamden City, eighteen miles from this city, a carriage factory and mill were demolished and other buildings unroofed. This place is on direct line with Washington Court House, and all along a trail of destruction is reported in a like manner.

IN MISSOURI.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 8.—The Journal's Lich field, Missouri, special says: High winds visited this place last night, causing several thousand dollars damage. The fine brick residence of Mr. Klotsche was partly demolished, and his son, aged 4, crushed to death. H. W. Booth's house was torn from its foundation, and a number of others wrecked.

THE PURITAN AND THE GENESTA.

A Collision Before Starting Puts an End to Racing for Several Days

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 8.—The lower bay is this morning again full of yachts. The Puritan is anchored near the Sandy Hook dock, and the Genesta is further down. The signal service office reports light southerly winds, under five miles an hour. Brisk winds are predicted towards evening, with increasing cloudiness and rain.

Noon—The Puritan has fouled the Genesta and carried away the Genesta's bowsprit. The Puritan had her mainsail badly torn in the collision. On account of the accident to the competing yachts the race is off for to-day.

DETAILS OF THE ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—New York is full of disappointed yachtsmen to-night, and none are more so than those who came on from Boston three days ago to see how their favorite Puritan would behave in the great contest for the American cup, and have not seen it yet. The most serious of the delays was caused by the collision between the Puritan and Genesta, just as the yachts were about to start under the most favorable conditions in their first real struggle for the trophy.

Staten Island, to which place both yachts were towed, agreed to send a letter to Sir Richard Sutton, acknowledging their mistake and agreeing to pay what the damages amounted to. Eastern yachtmen are extremely indignant that their pet sloop should be the cause of this delay. The committee will officially declare the date of the next race.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL POOL.

The Association Meets at St. Paul and has a General Talk.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 8.—The Transcontinental association at 11 o'clock was called to order by General Agent Carmon of San Francisco. T. F. Oakes, vice-president of the Northern Pacific, was in the chair, and M. S. Jorden secretary. A discussion of matters and general policy followed. The representative of the Central Pacific thought the percentages awarded last spring were not properly divided. The Southern Pacific asked for a new award of percentages, but did not take the arbitrary position that some thought it would. After a general exchange of opinion regarding the present percentages, without action, the association adjourned till to-morrow morning.

It was learned from a gentleman high in the counsel of the association to-night that while the manner of the representatives of the Central and the Southern Pacific was very mild, yet they were firm in the stand not to abide by the award of percentages made by Bogue, Ford and Grey. "This," said the gentleman above referred to, "means destruction of arbitration, which is the only thing the roads have for maintaining peace. The remainder of the roads are willing to abide by the present award, but will not submit to granting the Central and the Southern Pacific any increase at the expense of other roads. Notwithstanding the general drift of talk to-night, almost everything being harmonious, I cannot see now any possibility of an agreement, and believe the meeting will break up to-morrow in a general row. The association will be a thing of the past."

DEAD DESPERADOES BROUGHT IN.

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 8.—A News Gainesville special: Last night about 12 a wagon arrived in the city carrying the dead bodies of Jim and Pink Lee, the noted desperadoes and outlaws, who for two years past have been a terror to the people of Denton, Grayson and Cook counties. Their plan of operating was to steal cattle on the Texas side and drive them across the Red river into the Indian territory, where the three Lee boys had ranches. Last April, while Jim and Henry Lee, two respectable citizens of this county, with two farmers, one of whom was deputy marshal, were on a searching expedition in the Chickasaw nation for cattle bearing Jeff Brown's brand, they came upon the stronghold of the Lee gang and bravely approached the stockade to arrest the cattle thieves. The desperadoes opened fire through the portholes of their fortification, killing both the Lees and the two officers, whose bodies lay exposed several days and were partially eaten by hogs. Since this massacre large rewards have been offered for the capture of the Lee brothers, dead or alive. Bill Lee, together with two members of the gang, was captured in May and taken to Fort Smith, Ark., for trial before the United States court. All efforts to locate and capture Jim and Pink Lee have proved unavailing, until last evening. Many detectives have at various times worked on the case in hopes of securing the numerous rewards aggregating $7000. Yesterday detective Heck Thomas of Fort Worth learned that the Lee brothers were somewhere in the vicinity of Dexter, a small village of this county, and taking two brave officers, named James Taylor and James Settle, with him, then started out in search of the desperadoes. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon they came upon the outlaws on John Washington's ranch, where they were cutting a pasture fence. The officers dismounted and crept to within forty yards of the unconscious brothers, and ordered them to surrender. The outlaws fired on the officers for an answer, and the latter opened fire with their Winchesters, killing Pink Lee at the first volley and wounding Jim in the neck. Jim fell, but continued to fire as many as ten shots at the officers before he was finally killed. Thousands of people viewed the remains to-day. Features of the dead outlaws show them to have been ignorant, brutal creatures. Jim and Bill Lee were leaders of a gang of about twenty thieves. In the past two years they are said to have committed over 10 cold blooded murders. No band of desperadoes and thieves ever infested the river country more terrible to an honest cowman than the terrible Lee gang. The coroner held an inquest on the bodies this afternoon, which legal measure was thought necessary in order to secure the reward to the officers.

THE INDIANA TRUSTEE FRAUDS.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept. 8.—There are some new developments in the Davis county trustee frauds. Grimsley, Brown and Clark, the absconding trustees, have been seen and interviewed in Hamilton, Ontario. J. C. Billheimer, one of the attorneys, went to Canada shortly after they disappeared, and came across them in Hamilton. Billheimer, who has just returned, says:

"When I arrived in Hamilton I found three of the gloomiest trustees I ever saw in my life. They looked sad and forsaken, but offered no apologies or explanations concerning their schemes. They blamed a Chicago party for a good part of the mischief. I don't believe the trustees have much left, but I think the Chicago man beat them out of about all they had raised on the fraudulent warrants, because the paper was made out to his order, and he made no promise to hand over the money to them as he disposed of the papers."

In fact, however, neither of them can approximate how much paper they had issued. The total amount cannot be less than $150,000 for three townships. This and the fact that Posey county has discovered an apparently illegal issue of $60,000 in certificates by a former trustee have caused consternation among the people of this section, and may result in an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of amending the laws, which at present allow township trustees almost unlimited

HENDRICKS SPEAKS.

His Remarks before a Meeting of Friends of Ireland.

PARNELL'S MEASURES ENDORSED.

News and Rumor from the National Capital—More of Lieut. Stoney's Report—Admiral Jouett Enters a Protest

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 8.—A large meeting of citizens was held to-night at Masonic hall to endorse Parnell in his present political career respecting Ireland. Hon. John E. Lamb of Terre Haute presided, and speeches were made by Vice-President Hendricks and others. Resolutions were adopted of sympathy and encouragement with Mr. Parnell and the Irish party. Hendricks spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Citizens: Always, whatever may be her condition, Ireland will find devoted and steadfast friends in the United States. Some years ago I was called upon to attend a meeting of another nationality when war was pending between France and Prussia. Germans then held a very large and interesting meeting to express their sympathy with the cause of Germany in that controversy. I felt it right then to participate in that meeting, because the sons of Germany were deeply interested in the contest. This is no contest between nations or between armies. It is for the establishment of a good government in Ireland, and very especially do I enjoy participating and joining with you Irishmen and Irish women in expressing the sentiments you express on this occasion.

IRELAND'S WRONGS.

For many years it has not been a controverted question that Ireland has been dealt with hardly by England. It is known the world over that Ireland from the days of Henry II until this hour has not had fair play from Great Britain. On the contrary she has been denied the rights of equal citizenship and has been despoiled of her land. Every Irishman here to-night, every Irishman in America, is a protest against the bad government of England towards Ireland. How is it that you are here, having left the most beautiful land in the world? Perhaps no part of the globe is more attractive than Ireland, and yet you left Ireland. You are here because you could not get good government in Ireland. Forty-five years ago the population of the green isle was nine millions of people, a large population for a country only the size of Indiana. To-day, after a lapse of forty-five years, that population is only five millions, a loss in less than half a century of four millions of people, almost one-half of the entire population gone from Ireland. I know the famine of 1846 had much to do with this, but bad government and cruelties by her landlords have done more than famine and pestilence to depopulate the beautiful isle. I would say it is a serious matter when a man or a woman chooses to leave the home that has been the home of their forefathers for many centuries, and when on account of bad government, unjust laws and a cruel system of tenantry there has been driven away almost half of the population.

THE REMEDY.

"The question, What is to be done, comes up. It cannot remain always this way. The landlord who draws rent cannot always enjoy it in Paris and London. He must have a part in the fortunes of the people of the country or quit. It cannot always be that the people of Ireland are to be oppressed. I think the day of tyranny in every form is to pass away, and that the day is soon to come when all men are to be blest with good government and just laws.

It is well enough for you and me to understand what the political contest in Ireland is. I chanced to pay a visit to the house of commons a few years ago and heard this cause. Mr. Parnell then as now was leader, and held that in respect to her domestic affairs Ireland should have the right to make her own laws. There are this fall 100 members of parliament to be elected from Ireland, and Mr. Parnell expects that of this number his cause will carry eighty to eighty-five, so that when parliament meets there will be of true, tried and reliable friends of Ireland at least eighty members. They will go to parliament for the purpose of asserting the right of local self-government for Ireland. What a beautiful system that will be. They get it from you Irishmen in America. Here, as I said, in Indiana, about the same size as Ireland, differing no more in extent than half of Marion county, with a population not more than half as large as Ireland, we here would allow no man to speak of taking from us the right and power of local self-government. We recognize the right and power of the general government, but what affects you and me and the people of Indiana with us is that Indiana makes her own laws. The mission of the men to be sent from Ireland to parliament is to secure for Ireland what the Indianians enjoy—to claim the right to make her own laws, simply because we can regulate our own affairs better than any one else can regulate them for us, so Irishmen on their own soil for that simple reason must be legislators for Ireland. That was the great argument first asserted in this country. One hundred years has established the fact that local self-government with respect to local affairs is the true system of government in this world.

THE LAND TROUBLES.

"The great trouble in Ireland to-day is land. Where there is trouble with lands in any country the trouble is exceedingly great. Much has been done in Ireland to make better the condition of the tenant, but the land trouble still exists, and it must be regulated. It must be regulated as we regulate such matters in Indiana, by legislators from the soil. No question can arise between landlord and tenant in Indiana that is not regulated by our legislators, so Ireland must have local self-government. Who in Indiana would trust to any other state in legislation for her school, or in the building up of her industries? So am well fitted out for the winter. I have plenty of provisions and all the fur clothing that I want. I most respectfully request that a vessel be sent after us to reach Hotham inlet not later than August 25, 1886, since I would like to know by that time what to expect, in order to make arrangements for the coming winter. Should no vessel be there by August 25 I will commence my retreat to St. Michael's, a trading post of the Alaska Commercial company, where I can find good winter quarters and food of which I may be deficient. I can make the retreat to St. Michael's in my boats without much difficulty. We are all well on board and in good spirits. Everything looks bright ahead."

THE ARBITRATION LEAGUE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—At the meeting of the arbitration league held here to-night resolutions were adopted declaring that it is expedient to have a congressional committee appointed at the November meeting, representing every state in the Union, with a view of a complete canvass of congress during the coming winter in the hope of securing the passage of a bill in favor of a new treaty between Great Britain and the United States requiring all questions of international controversy between these two countries to be referred to arbitration. Also that members be instructed to use their best influence to bring to this meeting as many new members as possible, representing different states, and that the meeting consider the question of organizing branch arbitration leagues in different parts of the United States, so as to secure a powerful and united action in favor of congressional legislation. A committee of five were appointed by the chair to wait upon the president to secure, if possible, his good offices in furtherance of the views adopted by the meeting.

JUDGE HARLAN'S REPLY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A statement of Judge Harlan, presiding justice of the court of commissioners of Alabama claims, with regard to the alleged illegal expenditures of the court, was received at the state department to-day. Secretary Bayard declined to give it for publication at present. The statement is made in answer to a letter of Secretary Bayard to Judge Harlan giving the secretary's views regarding the expenditures of the court. It is a very large document, and is understood to contain an elaborate argument in support of the assertion that the court is legally organized and that there can be no reflection in law or fact upon its authority as organized. It justified the court for all expenditures which have been made, and asserts that it has used every legitimate means in its power to accomplish the work imposed upon it within the time prescribed by law.

TRYING TO CHANGE HIS OPINION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—First Comptroller Durham to-day gave hearing to Judge Wilson and other lawyers interested in cases pending before the court of commissioners of Alabama claims, who asked reconsideration of his action disallowing the expense account of the court. They contended that the enforcement of the ruling seriously embarrasses the business of the court, and prevents settlement of a large number of important cases. They also contended that there could be no illegality in the employment of the present legal and clerical assistants, inasmuch as the accounts of the court for such expenses has been approved by the former comptroller and sanctioned by congress, which extended the time of the court with full knowledge of its composition and manner of doing business. The comptroller reserved his decision.

CATTLE MOVING OUT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Indian Commissioner Atkins has received a telegram from Capt. Lee, agent of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indian reservation, in which he states that up to the present time 60,000 cattle have been driven off the reservation. About 50,000 yet remain, but they are all moving out with a single exception, where the owner has not yet been able to secure another ranch. The agent believes that this individual expects to have help; says that if his sincerity is doubted his stock will be removed by the government. Altogether Commissioner Atkins says he is satisfied with the condition of affairs on the reservation.

ADMIRAL JOUETT'S PROTEST.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Admiral Jouett has written a letter to the second comptroller protesting against the disallowance of $4000 in his accounts for contingent expenses incurred in the entertainment of certain dignitaries at New Orleans. He says it has always been the custom to allow the expenditures, and that it was certainly known to congress that the custom existed, and the contingent appropriation was to cover expenses of that sort. He protests most vigorously against having the money deducted from his pay as an officer of the navy.

WHY THEY WERE CANCELED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—It is stated at the treasury department that the only significance of the recent cancellation of silver certificates to the amount of about $1,000,000 lies in the fact, as shown by experience, that certificates of a large denomination are practically worthless as circulating medium. The notes destroyed were $500 and $1000 certificates, and it is proposed in case they shall be required to replace them with $10, $20, $50 and $100 certificates, as the latter are much better adapted for general circulation.

IMMIGRATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The commissioners of immigration of the state of New York have reported to the secretary of the treasury that during the year 1884 there arrived at the port of New York 310,030 immigrants, all of whom were examined by the board, and on such examination 1144 persons were found to be either convicts, lunatics, idiots or persons unable to take care of themselves without becoming public charges, and were returned to the countries whence they came.

BAD STATE OF AFFAIRS AT PORT TOWNSEND.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A telegram was received at the marine hospital bureau to-day from Past Assistant Surgeon Devan at Port Townsend, W. T., asking authority to employ watchmen to protect the property of the marine hospital service. He says several attempts have been made recently to fire the town, and the place is now under patrol by the citizens.

NATIONAL BANKS CHARTERED.

PACIFIC COAST.

A Customs Inspector Suddenly Removed from Office.

WYOMING REFUGEES ARRIVING.

Good News from New Zealand—Hibbs' Last Hope of Escape Destroyed—Labor Demonstration at Victoria—San Francisco Notes

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—News of the suspension of Customs Inspector F. D. Ciprico has just been made public. Mr. Ciprico has been the subject of a great many damaging insinuations in reference to the illegal landing of Chinese, during the period he was engaged at the wharf overseeing their landing and transfer from Chinese steamers. It is said he has made a formal demand for a public investigation of his conduct while thus engaged. His name has been used in the public press but once or twice, but allusions to him have been so thinly veiled as to completely identify him. Among certain officials of the custom house Mr. Ciprico's suspension is looked upon as a great injustice and injury to him. It is claimed by many in the most emphatic terms that there has never been anything in Mr. Ciprico's official life which will not bear the light of strict and searching investigation. Endeavor was made to keep the fact of his suspension a profound secret from the public, but, as usual, the secret leaked out. One official regretted that the fact was public because, he said, no charge had been made against Mr. Ciprico which could be substantiated, and he thought perhaps the surveyor had been influenced in suspending Mr. Ciprico by public clamor. As the matter now stands before the public Mr. Ciprico occupies the unenviable position of one sacrificed by his superior in order to appease public clamor. There is considerable curiosity expressed among knowing ones as to what specific charge or charges caused Mr. Ciprico to be temporarily relieved from active duty.

THE OPERA TROUBLE.

Judge Learned to-day issued an order for the arrest of Kreling Bros., proprietors of the Tivoli opera house, and those who were engaged in the performance of "Nanon" last evening, for alleged failure to obey a mandate of the court which granted an injunction to prevent the production of "Nanon" at the Tivoli. An examination was held to-day to show cause why the arrested persons should not be punished for contempt of court.

Joseph Kreling, one of the proprietors of the Tivoli opera house, where "Nanon" was produced last night despite an injunction granted by Judge Learned, was convicted of contempt of court and fined $500 and sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for five days. To-day John and Wm. Kreling, brothers of Joseph, and part proprietors of the Tivoli, were each fined $250 and sentenced to imprisonment for two days. Kreling Bros. sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Toohy, and the case will come up before Judge Wilson on the 18th inst. The play of "Nell Gwynne" was substituted at the Tivoli to-night for "Nanon."

Judge Toohy released Joseph Kreling on $500 bail and his brothers on $250 bail each. They filed papers to-day praying that the injunction be dissolved, as the version of "Nanon" which they used was not an infringement on Goldman & Conrad's.

VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL.

The trial of Wm. A. Somerset on a charge of murder was concluded last evening and resulted in his acquittal. The circumstances of the alleged crime are that on Sunday afternoon of May 10 Somerset and August Daniels exchanged shots on Kearney street below California. During the fusilade Sadie Inding, a woman over whom they were quarreling, was shot and killed by a bullet which it is claimed came from Daniels' pistol. Daniels is in custody awaiting trial on a charge of murder. Somerset will now be tried on a charge of assault to murder for shooting at Daniels.

REFUGEES FROM WYOMING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Many of the Chinese who were driven from their homes in Wyoming territory last week are en route for San Francisco. Two of the unfortunate Mongolians arrived in this city yesterday. They made their way on foot as far as possible from the scene of the outbreak and then took the train. As they were unable to speak English no relation of their experiences could be obtained. The fact was learned, however, that more than 400 Chinese refugees have congregated at Evanston and are in great distress, as they have neither food nor clothing.

THE CALIFORNIA & OREGON.

Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific company stated yesterday that work would be commenced immediately on the extension of the California & Oregon road. From 800 to 1000 men will be placed on the line north of Ledding, and kept there until spring, occupied chiefly in tunneling, excavating and otherwise preparing for grading, which will commence as soon as the rains are over. The superintendent stated that they would not likely reach the state line inside of a year.

GOOD NEWS FROM NEW ZEALAND.

Advices from New Zealand by the steamer City of Sydney state that Sir Julius Vogel's motion relative to the retention of the San Francisco mail service was carried in the house of representatives by a large majority. He then announced that it was the intention of the government to call for tenders for eighteen days' mail service between San Francisco and New Zealand, Auckland to be the terminal port of the steamers.

TO BE RELIEVED.

An order will be issued in Washington to-morrow relieving Lieut. Craig as officer in charge of the signal service of the United States army for the Pacific division. He will be ordered to report at Washington for duty. The order relieving him will reach here in about eight days. It is not yet known who will assume charge of the signal service for the Pacific coast. It is believed, however, that the appointment will be made without delay.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, SEPT 9, 1885

IF NOT CONFIRMED, WHAT?

Undoubtedly when the senate comes to consider the appointments next December there will be a political stir. Many will be confirmed without delay and of course; but there is a multitude of cases in which the administration has flagrantly disregarded its own professions, by making removals solely for party reasons, and appointments solely to reward partisan service. Into some of these cases the senate certainly will look very sharply, and in all probability a good many nominations will be rejected.

The Albany (N. Y.) Journal says that though the president entered upon his duties with an evident determination to make removals only for cause, he has been giving way inch by inch to the demand for the offices; and this is true. The work of the internal revenue bureau and of the postoffice department fully confirm this statement. Very few removals were made at the start—none, in fact, excepting on grave charges against the incumbent; next the ridiculous charge of "offensive partisanship," meaning that an official had worked for his party's success, was sufficient; subsequently "offensive partisanship" was taken to mean simply that an official had voted the republican ticket, and now no charge at all is necessary. A democratic congressman simply tells the first assistant postmaster-general that he desires to have a republican in the postoffice superceded by a democrat, and changes are made at the rate of one in every six minutes. Republicans expect this to be done, but they have a right to insist that it shall not be done under false pretenses.

But if the senate shall refuse to confirm what will be the consequence? This is now being discussed. Will the suspended official be restored to office or not? The New York Evening Post, an earnest supporter of the president, insists that the senate has the right to know why an official is removed. It quotes section 1767 of the revised statutes, which provides that an official appointed by and with the advice and consent of the senate "shall be entitled to hold such office during the term for which he was appointed, unless sooner removed by and with the advice and consent of the senate, or by the appointment, with the like advice and consent, of a successor in his place, except as herein otherwise provided." The exception refers to appointments under the tenure of office act, and the Evening Post holds that if the senate does not confirm the nominations made by the president during a recess of that body, "the suspended officer is reinstated by the terms of section 1767. In contemplation of law he has never been removed and cannot be until the senate has advised and consented thereto."

Democrats say that republicans are unreasonable in making this contest; that Lincoln swept all the democrats out before he had been in office six months, and that this fact should estop the republicans from protest. But to this there are sufficient answers. Republicans are not protesting against removals, but against the false pretenses on which removals are made. Again, Lincoln had very few offices to fill, compared with the number existing now, and Cleveland therefore has made many more removals than he did. In the southern states Lincoln could make no appointments because of the rebellion, and in the northern states nearly every democratic official was a supporter of the rebellion, and was justly removed therefor. Moreover, is it proper for our democratic brethren to go back a quarter of a century for their politics? What are they saying about John Sherman? They insist that he mustn't talk about obsolete issues. Perhaps they might as well take a step forward themselves.

INCREASE OF POPULATION.

Many of the states and territories are enumerating their inhabitants this year. The result will give a basis for estimating the growth of population throughout the whole country since 1880. The census of Oregon is not yet complete nor perhaps will it be very trustworthy after it is finished. Our methods of taking the state census are very inadequate, and there has never yet been a satisfactory result. It is believed, however, that the returns will show a gain in our population of about 30 per cent. since 1880. This would make the present population somewhere near 230,000. No doubt the increase of Washington territory has been proportionately larger. Its population has increased 50 per cent., certainly, since 1880, and perhaps more. Washington at this time undoubtedly has 13[illegible],000 inhabitants, perhaps more.

It is probable that the population of the whole country has increased 20 per cent. during the last five years. Even in the old states, as Massachusetts and New Jersey, whose inhabitants have just been enumerated, the gain since 1880 has been large. Massachusetts, in these five years, has added 157,812 to her population, an increase of 9.4 per cent., while New Jersey has added 146,616, a gain of 12.9 per cent. In many of the newer states the gain has been prodigious. Thus, in Minnesota, it has been 337,713, or nearly 50 per cent., in Nebraska it has been 287,548, or more than 50 per cent. In Iowa, though an older state than either, it has been above 20 per cent. But Dakota surpasses all the states and territories in her rate of increase. She had 135,177 inhabitants in 1880; she has 416,511 now.

In the southern states, too, though there is no kind of enterprise, the population increases fast, because it is easy to get a living, and large families entail no burden upon those who never think of accumulating property. It is known too that the increase in all the large cities of the North and East has been steady and large, notwithstanding the depression in business and the stagnation which prevails in the manufacturing industries. In centers like New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburg and Cleveland every year adds to the number of people engaged in manufacturing and commercial pursuits. The increase is more rapid in times of prosperity, but under the most adverse circumstances each census shows a large growth in population in the great trade centers. The United States had 50,000,000 inhabitants, in round numbers, in 1880. If the gain has been 20 per cent. in five years, we should now have 60,000,000. It is believed that when the next decennial census is taken (in 1890) the total will not fall much below 70,000,000, which would be a population almost equal to that of France and Germany combined. This country now contains the largest body of homogeneous and civilized people on the globe, yet who can imagine the possibilities of population in the United States, say five hundred years hence? Fill our country as full as France and Germany—and this will come to pass—and there will be a population numbered by hundreds of millions.

All England is excited over the prosecution of Stead, editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, who has got himself into hot water through a foolish excess of zeal, into which he was led that he might expose a gross evil. In order to prove that the practices which he had exposed in his paper were possible, he entered into an arrangement with a reformed demirep and some members of the Salvation Army to abduct, sequester and maltreat a young girl to the full extent that he had charged others had done, except as to actual criminal abuse. They selected a girl called Eliza Armstrong for the experiment, and succeeded in accomplishing all that they undertook to do. They are now defendants in a police prosecution for criminal abduction and maltreatment of the girl. It is a good thing to shun even the appearance of evil. Mr. Stead is not a wise man.

The brother of the Standard is evidently nettled already, or perhaps "rattled," would be the more appropriate expression. And he hasn't had much experience yet with Oregon democracy, either. That, however, will come along in good time. The brother also quotes Scripture, saying "Let the heathen rage," and with this he proceeds to remark: "THE OREGONIAN, like Mr. Fithian, is a part of that bad element in both parties, which the Standard is engaged with President Cleveland in fighting." The brother, we shall not deny, is the good man, the extra good man, he claims to be, and yet there is another Scripture which it seems as necessary to heed in these times as of old, to-wit, "Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees!"

The terms "offered lands" and "unoffered lands," we find on further inquiry, are used nowhere in the statutes. They are special terms used in the land office regulations. "Offered lands" are those which have been advertised or proclaimed for sale, but which were not then sold. If not withdrawn or reserved, they remain open to private entry. "Unoffered lands" are such as were never offered.

Rhode Island still has the densest population of all the states, the number of inhabitants to the square mile shown by the new census being 280, as against 240 for Massachusetts, which has ranked second in the list since the foundation of the Union. The population of Rhode Island is now 304,1[illegible], an increase of 25,888 in five years.

THE SPANISH-GERMAN DISPUTE

All Indications Point to a Peaceable Solution of the Carolines Affair.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—An authorized report is published that at the cabinet council, Senor Canovas del Castillo told King Alfonso that unless he trusted the ministry he would summon Senor Sagasta, whose energy would probably bring about a rupture with Germany under the popularity of King Alfonso. At the same time he deprecated such course until diplomacy had been exhausted. King Alfonso without hesitation decided he had confidence in Senor Canovas' cabinet, and would maintain it in preference to popularity with the people at the expense of bloodshed. His majesty was convinced that Emperor William would meet him half way in the desire for peace. King Alfonso telegraphs Count Benomar, Spanish ambassador at Berlin, accordingly. Court and official circles are confident that either by means of arbitration or negotiations Spain will retain possession of the Caroline islands.

GERMANY'S DEMAND.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—Germany's demand for reparation for the insult to the German embassy here on Saturday was received to-day. The note is couched in very reasonable terms. Spain's note in reply which was dispatched to-night expresses deep regret at the occurrence of the incident and says that the offenders will be prosecuted and punished; all those responsible for the safety of the embassy have been arrested and dismissed from the service, and condemns the action of the riotous mob. Meanwhile preparations for the event of war continue. Orders have been given for reports on all troops available for service.

THE MAN FOR THE OCCASION.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—A telegram from Madrid states that Gen. Lopez Dominguez has submitted to the pressure brought to bear on him and has accepted the premiership.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Though the report that Gen. Lopez Dominguez has been appointed head of the Spanish government is not generally believed, it is thought he will be appointed premier. He is the only general able to suppress the present popular agitation or if out of office could counteract King Alfonso's desire for peace with Germany. He is a very able officer and has great influence with the army in either direction.

PUBLIC OPINION.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—Public opinion here unanimously deprecates the arbitration of the Carolines dispute. The commander of the Spanish man-of-war Velasco who was expected to arrive at Yap on the 28th was under orders to regain possession of that island. News from Yap is anxiously awaited.

Yesterday evening police dispersed numerous bands of youths which were parading the streets and defying Germany. The municipal authorities of Barcelona have adopted resolutions denouncing the action of the German government.

A REVOLUTION PREDICTED.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—A majority of the newspapers in this city expect that the strong anti-German feeling throughout Spain caused by the Carolines affair will result in a revolution in that country as the people manifest a hostile feeling against King Alfonso and his ministers for their actions respecting German occupancy of Yap.

ARBITRATION NOT NEEDED.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—It is believed an arbitration will not be needed in the Caroline affair. When matters connected with the German occupation of Yap are settled Emperor William will receive Count de Benomar, Spanish ambassador, on his return to Berlin.

SPAIN CARRIES HER POINT.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—News has just arrived that the emperor of Germany has decided that owing to Spanish ships having arrived three days before the German boats, the island of Yap shall belong to Spain. Thus the Spanish-German episode may be said to have its end.

THE CARLISTS MOVING.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—According to trustworthy intelligence received from Vienna the Carlists are actively on foot and are not only numerous but also well supplied with funds. They are watching their opportunity and if the situation should not improve they are determined to start a march on the republicans.

ENGLAND.

THE ABDUCTION CASE.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The examination of Mr. Stead, editor of the Pall Mall Gazette and other defendants in the Eliza Armstrong abduction case was resumed this morning. Mrs. Armstrong, mother of Eliza, testified that Mrs. Jarrett obtained her daughter from her on a plea of needing the child to assist in the housework of her home. Witness scouted the idea that she knew anything of the character of Mrs. Jarrett other than was represented by the prisoner herself and denied in an emphatic manner that she had hired her daughter for immoral purposes.

Upon cross-examination Eliza Armstrong stated that her father, mother and six children lived in one room. She admitted that with the exception of the indignities referred to in her testimony yesterday her abductors had treated her kindly.

GLADSTONE REMAINS INDOORS.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Mr. Gladstone has not been outside of Hawarden castle all day. There is much public misgiving as to the cause of his seclusion, his health being far from good.

BULLION FOR AMERICA.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Sixty thousand pounds in bullion was bought in open market yesterday for shipment to the United States. This will be the first of several shipments to be made.

Stone of St. Louis in the last lap of the amateur race fell and George M. Hendee, who these two and D. E. Hunter [illegible] behind, took headers, breaking two machines. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Metropolitan 2, Pittsburg 4.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—St. Louis 1, Chicago 1. The game drew out a fair attendance and proved very close and exciting. Neither club could bat the opposing pitchers with any degree of effectiveness and at the close of the ninth inning there was one run for each club. The tenth also resulted in blanks for both sides and at the end of the eleventh inning Dunlap wanted the game drawn but the visitors insisted on playing. After Kelly had been retired in the eleventh inning Anson insisted upon having the game called. He claimed it was too dark [illegible].

ST. LOUIS RACES.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—The weather for the opening of the fall meeting of the fair association was fair and windy. The track was stiff and in some places very bad after the rain yesterday and last night. The attendance was moderate.

THE ANCON'S ACCIDENT.

How the Passengers Enjoyed Themselves—Their Suitable Recognition of the Bravery of Capt. Carroll and his Men

Miss E C Sabin, principal of the North school returned from a trip to Alaska yesterday She was a passenger by the steamer Ancon which was disabled on its return about 250 miles above Nanaimo and did not arrive until nearly ten days after it was due An OREGONIAN reporter called upon Miss Sabin last evening at her residence and received some very interesting information regarding the trip the accident that delayed the return, and the manner in which the tourists passed away the time while waiting for relief.

The accident occurred about 7 30 o'clock P M August 25, while the steamer was in Queen Charlotte sound at the outlet of Fitzhugh sound The chief engineer was not on duty at the time One of the oilers had just reported to the assistant engineer that some of the machinery above was heating, and the latter went to see about it leaving the oiler in charge of the engine Without a second's warning one of the cylinders tore loose from its fastenings below with a great crash went up about a foot and then jammed down again with a shock that was felt throughout the whole ship The break occurred in the lower part of the condenser just above the bed plate, and it is almost a miracle that when the cylinder sprang up the great steam pipe from the boiler was not broken. Had this happened there must have been great loss of life from the scalding steam probably that of every person on the lower deck The steam pipe however stood the strain and the oiler with rare presence of mind immediately shut off the steam and threw open the safety valve It all happened so quickly that before any of the passengers could be come frightened the danger was all over

Captain Carroll immediately dropped his anchor It was in ninety seven fathoms of water and owing to the nature of the ground a very insecure anchorage Fortunately the water was very quiet and there was no danger. The next morning a boat was got out and after much hard work on the part of the sailors, the ship was towed into Safety cove a distance of about four miles Here the Ancon found secure anchorage This snug retreat has borne its name over ninety years It was so called by the navigator Vancouver, who took his vessel in there in 1792 for repairs

The captain then took a boat and eight men and started for Nanaimo, a distance of fully 250 miles It was a hard and perilous trip in an open boat but the weather favored them and they experienced no danger They arrived in five days Capt Carroll landed on Vancouver island about thirty miles above Nanaimo and made the rest of the trip on horseback Some enterprising reporter of the Nanaimo paper saw him ride into town and without making further inquiry the next issue of this paper contained an account of Capt. Carroll's visit to the interior coal mines, the future prospects of that flourishing section etc This joke is one the genial captain will not get through telling for some time

Meanwhile the passengers on board the Ancon although worrying over the possibility of the loss of Captain Carroll and his men, were otherwise enjoying themselves hugely and turned their enforced confinement in this solitary spot miles from any human habitation, into a regular out of door picnic There was no trouble in reaching the shore, and clambakes, games upon the shore and inland explorations were of daily occurrence There was no lack of provisions aboard the ship and the entire party could have been fed two weeks longer without any shortage even if relief had not come when it did Plenty of amusement was to be had also on board the ship There were a piano a guitar a violin, an accordeon and several other minor musical instruments, half a dozen would be songsters a parson and four poets and several score of punsters with no end of writers both humorous and romantic Of course a paper the joint work of many contributors was published on board What voyage would be complete without it?

The worry in regard to Capt Carroll's safety had grown almost universal throughout the ship when the ninth day passed, and still no relief Safety cove had been the scene of many a pleasant hour but still no one cared to stay up there all winter The feelings of everybody therefore can better be imagined than described, when on the afternoon of Friday September 4, the steam tug Alexander of Nanaimo came to their relief Cheer upon cheer rent the air women waved their handkerchiefs and shawls and men shouted frantically until they were hoarse Even tears were to be seen in the eyes of some of the men The other sex were stronger hearted and indeed who ever heard of a woman spoiling the beauty of her eyes by weeping just when there are some strangers to arrive

The next morning the tug towing the steamship left Safety cove and without further accident arrived at her destination The passengers held a meeting on board the Ancon before their final disembarkation and a purse of $140 was raised and presented to the crew of eight men who rowed Capt Carroll to Nanaimo A purse of $50 was also raised and presented to the oiler whose presence of mind at the moment of danger undoubtedly saved many lives The following resolutions were also adopted

Resolved That we deem it our duty to say that the officers of the steamer Ancon are in no way responsible for the accident to her machinery on August 25 but on the contrary their conduct is entitled to high praise in averting a serious disaster

Resolved That our thanks are due to First Officer Wallace and the officers and men who remained with the steamer for their untiring efforts to convert a tedious delay into a pleasant episode.

Resolved, That we shall always cherish the most grateful remembrance of Captain Carroll for his constant care for our comfort and safety for his coolness in danger his promptness in action for his intrepidity in making a voyage of 250 miles in an open boat to bring us relief and that we recognize in him a thorough seaman possessing the qualities that justly inspire confidence and respect and eminently fit him for the responsible position he so ably fills

Resolved, That in the navigation of waters like these where points of relief are often distant and opportunities of communication are rare it is the duty of the owners to provide each passenger vessel with a substantial steam launch and that failure to do so is inexcusable neglect

GLORIOUS RAIN.

A strong south wind yesterday morning drove away the pall of smoke which has so long covered this section and disclosed a sky covered with dark hurrying clouds giving promise of speedy rain All the forenoon the south wind blew and the clouds flew and the surface of the river was ruffled and the whirlwinds of dust gyrated around street corners and the current question changed from "Is this hot enough for you" to, "Do you think it will rain" The signal service bulletins were watched to see if it had begun raining up the valley But when it was seen that the wind was northwest at Roseburg people's spirits fell lower than the barometer and it required for in these days of signal service regulations it would not do to have rain here unless the wind was south at Roseburg. However the south wind continued to blow here and at 3 10 in the afternoon the first drops of a gentle shower began to fall In a moment umbrellas and rubber coats appeared as if by magic for the first time in many long weeks People rushed to the doors and smiling faces and pleasant greetings were heard on every side One enthusiastic gentleman wanted to treat an OREGONIAN reporter on the strength of the sprinkle but was informed that this paper was run on temperance principles as far as the rain was concerned The gentle shower lasted till about 6 o'clock when the sky lightened up and the rain ceased During the evening the south wind blew and the sky grew somewhat blacker till at 10 o'clock a lighter shower set in the heavy drops sounding like

A report of the state of the weather in the Willamette valley and south of Oregon City Reports at 3 P M were as follows

Ashland—Cloudy cool, wind north

Glendale—Clear cold, wind north

Roseburg—Cloudy, cool calm

Comstocks—Cloudy, warm, wind light south

Albany—Cloudy cool wind south, light rain

Salem—Cloudy cool, wind south, light rain

Of course no one can tell how long the rain will last One day is enough for the present The chances are that the eastern and California people who arrived from Alaska yesterday will see Mt Hood before they go If the sun comes out to-day or to-morrow these visitors will be certain to report that their last day in Oregon so far as viewing scenery goes was the richest of their journey

THE COURTS.

The Great Holladay Case at Last Set for Trial.

A Large Number of Motions in the Equity Department—Half a Dozen Divorce Cases Sent to Referee Simon

After an unsettled existence of over two years first lingering along in the motion stage, and through demurrers respectively to the first second third fourth and fifth amended complaints, and then through the tedious though somewhat more interesting period of the taking of testimony before a referee the famous Holladay vs Holladay case—wherein Ben sues his brother Joe for the recovery of certain property which he alleges he placed in his brother's hands at a time when he most needed a brother so that other people might not get it never dreaming that his brother would not give it back—this action involving a large estate will come to a trial in open court on Thursday Sept 24 This time was fixed by Judge Stearns yesterday and the attorneys upon each side instructed to be prepared upon that day The Pottier & Stymus company of New York, who have a bill for furniture supplied to Ben which has never been paid and has accordingly in the present condition of affairs sued both the brothers to secure its payment, is pushing its claim with all possible energy This action has now been referred to W B Newbury to take testimony and report findings

EQUITY CASES

The Milwaukie Episcopal Church Property—Chinese Fail to Comply with the Terms of a Ten Year Lease on Second Street

In department No 1 of the state circuit court yesterday morning Judge Stearns rendered a decision in the case of B Wistar Morris bishop of Oregon vs Theodore Schmale overruling the defendant's demurrer to the complaint This action involves the ownership of what is known as the Milwaukie Episcopal church property The defendant, Schmale, insists that the church is built upon his land Wherefore he considered the good church members of that town as trespassers and immediately proceeded to nail up the front entrance to the church Bishop Morris on behalf of the church society began suit to enjoin Schmale and the court has now decided that there is no fault to be found with his complaint

Mrs. I K Brooks who brought suit against the Chinese firms Gee Tyng & Co and Hong Lee yesterday obtained an order of foreclosure of mortgage for $351 This mortgage is upon a ten year lease-hold estate of lot 4 block 22 being 25 feet fronting on Second street in this city

DIVORCE MATTERS

Mrs. Ford Gets a Divorce and the Property—Mrs Cline's Startling Charges Against her Husband.

Mrs Mary A Ford of Albina yesterday secured a decree of divorce from her husband Abraham Ford and also by a ratification of the referee's report a large share of the property It appears that when Ford thought more of his wife than he does now he hung upon a Christmas tree as a present for her a deed to a large part of his property This he has since claimed was never intended as a valid deed and so pleaded before the court Judge Stearns however took a different view and said that in all his life he had been led to believe that Christmas trees were genuine and had never heard of anything hung on one as a present being taken back

In the case of Jacob Cline vs Wally Cline a demurrer of the plaintiff to the defendant's amended answer was sustained in part, but overruled as to that part relating to the debauching of their daughter the court stating that if the defendant's charges in regard to this were true it was a most excellent reason for her having left the plaintiff, and would invalidate his claim that his wife had deserted him

The cases of Mary O Ubut vs C H Ubut Mary F Matthews vs D T Matthews Rosa Moore vs Wesley Moore Daniel Gilman vs Ellen Gilman, J C Lawrence vs J R Lawrence and Jonathan Delap vs Ellen Delap were all referred to N D Simon to take testimony and report the findings of fact and conclusions of law to the court In most of the cases that went to the referee the defendants were declared in default not having answered the summons of the court

CRIMINAL BUSINESS

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

A Peep at the Magnificent Interior of this Glorious Structure.

The new High school building which was to have been finished by this time is yet far from completion, and the public who have so long gazed on its towering walls and heaven soaring pinnacles will have to wait awhile longer before they can view the splendor and magnificence inside

Access to the building has been denied the public for some time but an OREGONIAN reporter managed to effect an entrance yesterday and strolled through the structure from basement to attic He has visited many educational institutions and is accustomed to the style of gorgeous magnificence in which the editorial rooms of the leading newspapers of the country are fitted up but the richness and elegance of finish of the new High school building was a revelation to him and completely bewildered him

The outside of the building is familiar to all The main portion of it thanks to those who have lately had charge of the work is neat substantial and in good taste But the towers on the east and west sides are marvels of architecture They are decorated in the most lavish and extravagant manner with carvings and ornamentation of elaborate design in wood pasted on the brick walls and projecting from every angle and coign of vantage

These two towers alone which are utterly useless must have cost enough to have built a school building, adequate for all the purposes of the High school Passing up imposing flights of steps of artificial stone the main entrance is gained, and the large circular hall in the center of the building reached

The first idea that strikes one is that the building was constructed on the clown's scheme for making a cask viz by taking a round hole and building the building around it This grand central hall is finished in a style of richness and elegance not equaled in any other building in the state On every hand richly paneled doors ornamented with hand dug carvings in black walnut and towering up till lost in the shadows of the floor above lead to the different school rooms

These are finished as plainly and simply as need be and present little worthy of notice except that all the halls and closets appear to be cut off from them thus decreasing their size in order to leave more space for the grand hall in the center and thus furnish more space for the display of lavish munificence in the way of decoration Staircases, not only wide but finished in a style to correspond with the hall with elegant and massive newel posts and ornamented with scroll carving in black walnut lead to the floor above, where the same magnificence is repeated, and the visitor mounts to the upper story where the ornamentation appears even more grand in the bright light from the dome overhead Around the circular openings in each floor are heavy ash railings ornamented with rosettes carved in black walnut

From this upper hall the gallery of the theater in the east end of the building is reached And here all that has previously been seen dwindles into insignificance This apartment is yet far from completion but enough can be seen to show that when done it will surpass in beauty and elegance of finish any similar room in the state, or probably in the United States The heavy carvings overhead the graceful outlines of the gallery front the massy and elegant carving of the railing, surrounding the stage give an idea of what a splendid appearance the room will present when completed.

The pupil who go up there to recite "The boy stood on the burning deck" "You'd scarce expect one of my age" "Aye, tear her tattered ensign down" and other favorite pieces should be dressed in silk and velvets and should all turn out Shakespeares Byrons Henry Ward Beechers and Belva Lockwoods

As one steps back from the gallery to the central hall and looks down the narrow and crooked stair cases leading to the lower story the thought occurs that in case of a fire the light well would be the nearest and most expeditious route to take

Winding down the zigzag stairs and out to the street one pauses to look at the great building, and when he reflects that three buildings equally good for school purposes could have been built with the money it cost he cannot but deem it a case of the most reckless extravagance

When first contemplated the cost was estimated at $78 000 for a brick building and $64 000 for a wooden one The actual cost will amount to between $125 000 and $140 000, not reckoning extras, which will be considerable If there had not been a change in the board of directors and had the extravagant plans of the architect been carried out in full the building would have cost $200 000 Some will consider it a credit to the city, but those who are posted know it to be a debit against the city

WHAT NEXT?

COLFAX W. T Sept.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Voorhees reception here seems to grow every day I was out of town on the evening of its occurrence but on the following day I was called upon by a number of prominent democrats with the request to send an account of the affair to THE OREGONIAN I informed them of my absence at the time and told them if they would set forth the facts interesting to readers of THE OREGONIAN I would telegraph it They acquiesced and soon after handed your correspondent a report for transmission after reading which I told them it read too much like a show bill or 4th of July poster and would be of no interest to anyone except a few democratic office seekers. After a little inquiry I prepared and submitted to them the dispatch as it appeared in THE OREGONIAN with which they did not seem over pleased I thereupon informed them that if they were afraid to circulate the remarks he made here I would send nothing but they assured me such was not the case, and the dispatch went The report sent to the Standard contained sixty words and was prepaid here It made no mention of his sacrilegious democracy to his fight on the Northern Pacific That portion of the Standard's dispatch was taken from THE OREGONIAN and utterly against the wish of local democrats who feared results which conclusion is drawn from the fact that the remark in question was not incorporated in reports sent to their organs

Explanatory of the statement that a large number of the delegate's friends met him at the depot I would say If a man has a dozen friends nine would be a large number of them

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike 2,500,000 pores Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration is expelled more than one quarter of the nourishment taken into the system The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr Pitcher formulated Castoria Loose bowels constipation fevers and eruptions which are so common among infants and children and which kill one third of all children before they are five years old arise principally from these two causes It is from the wonderful results attending upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine

MORE TRAMPS

It being reported that tramps had again become inconveniently numerous about the O & C depot, Officer McMillen organized a posse last night and made a descent upon them capturing an even half dozen They appear to be plain ordinary tramps and were practically glad to be taken in out of the rain and given a night's lodging.
